HUERTA MAY QUIT

DICTATOR REPORTED TO HAVE INSTRUCTED ENVOYS TO OFFER ABDICATION.

ASKS LARGE LOAN IN RETURN

Demands Carranza Be Barred From Presidency; That He Help Name New Ruler; That U. S. Loan Mexico $400,000,000—Former Aid Flees.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 20.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta is said to have sent word to his mediation delegates that he would resign the presidency of the Mexican republic on the following four conditions:

1. That General Carranza be forever barred from ascending to the presidency.

2. That Huerta may have a choice in naming the new ruler of the republic.

3. That the United States make an immediate loan of between three hundred and fifty million and four hundred million dollars to the Mexican government.

4. That the United States government pay approximately $100,000,000 for the lease of Magdalena bay.

Washington, May 20.—Despite the many unofficial reports that Huerta is willing to resign, on certain conditions, this government has received nothing to substantiate them, and, in fact, regards them with suspicion and as indicating that the Mexican dictator is trying to throw dust in the administration's eyes.

It is positively known that neither this government, the A.B.C. mediators nor the Huerta representatives to the peace parley at Niagara Falls have received anything from Huerta indicating his intention of submitting any propositions which include his resignation.

It is definitely known also that the administration believes Huerta will not resign, at least under circumstances which will be accepted by the United States.

Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, who was once Huerta's most trusted counselor in the cabinet, and who as minister of the interior is popularly believed to have been the author of many orders for the disappearance of the chief's political enemies, arrived here on Monday among the refugees from the capital. He had fled from the wrath of Huerta.

Doctor Urrutia said he had not been subjected to any overt act of hostility by Huerta, but had decided that to remain within reach of the provisional president was to court death. He had been convinced of this by the testimony of friends and by what he himself had seen. He declared he preferred to enter the American lines and trust to the hospitality of the American authorities in Vera Cruz. He was accompanied by his family and said he expected to remain here indefinitely.

The former minister of the interior declared he had stolen away from the capital in the same way as any other fugitive. He had succeeded in eluding General Huerta's agents and arrived within the American lines without his identity being disclosed so far as he knew.

Vera Cruz, May 19.—Activity of Mexican forces beyond the American lines increased during Sunday. Refugees appeared within the American lines and declared that Mexican cavalry was approaching from the northeast. The refugees expressed the opinion that the Mexicans were preparing to attack the city.

Herr Everbush, German consul at Tampico, was insulted by a rebel colonel, a member of General Caballero's staff, while attempting to arrange for the departure of 140 refugees aboard the Hamburg-American liner Ypiranga. It is reported the captain of the German cruiser Dresden was prepared to land marines, if necessary, to obtain the release of the fugitives.

Arrangements had been made at Tampico for the departure of the Ypiranga, but later the rebel officers ordered all the passengers off the vessel. Thereupon the consul with an officer of the cruiser Dresden, went to see the rebel leaders.

"This low-bred German consul makes me tired," said the rebel colonel.

The consul protested, whereupon the rebel repeated the insult and reached for a weapon. General Caballero intervened and the departure of the ship was finally arranged after the refugees had been held all night.

It was believed the rebels wanted an excuse to seize the arms and ammunition aboard the Ypiranga, which were not delivered to Huerta.

Washington, May 19.—President Huerta's elimination from power in Mexico through his own delegates to the mediation conference in Niagara Falls was deemed a certainty after the delegates had explained their attitude to personal friends and departed for New York on the way to the peace meeting, which will be opened Wednesday.

It became clear that the conference would deal not only with the "Tampico incident," but with the internal war of Mexico, and that the establishment of peace, with perhaps a constitutionalist in the provisional presidency, although neither Carranza nor Villa, would be the chief object of the conference.

The chief military development of Sunday was a report from General Funston that the San Francisco bridge on the Intercontinental railroad, 28 miles from Vera Cruz, had been destroyed by Mexican federalists.

General Funston reported rumors that General Navarrete, Mexican commander, was in the vicinity of Vera Cruz with 3,000 men. Army officers seriously doubted, however, that Navarrete had so many troops.

Although General Huerta has sent delegates to mediate differences and they know the viewpoint, there is a possibility that hostilities may be provoked at any time by the federal troops near Vera Cruz, which may entangle the situation and force another crisis.

Developments affecting foreign interests are expected at Tampico. At the instance of Chevalier W. L. F. C. Van Rappard, minister of the Netherlands, instructions were sent by the secretary of the navy to Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico to forward full information in regard to a reported demand of the constitutionalists there for a "voluntary contribution" to the constitutionalists' cause.

FIGHTING IN TAMPICO'S OUTSKIRTS

Advance trenches of the federals outside Tampico repelling an attack by the constitutionalists. These soldiers and their males finally were driven from the city and fled to the south.

SIGN FOR CHARTER

REPRESENTATIVES FORWARD A BANK INCORPORATION CERTIFICATE TO CAPITAL.

AGENTS FROM FIVE STATES

Organization Committee at Washington Expected to at Once Authorize Contract—To Be Operative on the First of July.

Chicago, May 20.—Federal district reserve banks at eight cities were organized by the signing of the certificates of incorporation forwarded from the organization board at Washington Monday.

There are 12 districts, Chicago being number seven. Representatives of five banks in the Chicago districts met at the Chicago clearing house and at noon affixed their signatures to the certificates recently received by James H. Forgan, chairman of the clearing house committee. He presided at the meeting.

When the certificates are received at Washington the charters for the federal district reserve banks will be issued. When the charter is received the federal reserve bank of Chicago will perfect its organization and elect its officers.

The organization made here is to be the central bank for the seventh district, comprising the banks of two-thirds of Indiana and Illinois, all of Iowa, the southern half of Wisconsin and the lower peninsula of Michigan.

The banks in the Chicago district are to be divided into three groups, each of which is to elect two directors. One of these men shall represent banking and the other commercial interests.

Three directors are to be designated by the federal reserve board, one of whom is to be chairman.

The management of the Chicago reserve bank will be in the hands of the member banks through their directors, who in turn are subject to the supervision of the federal reserve board.

Officials who signed the certificate of organization for the Chicago regional reserve bank were James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank; George M. Reynolds, president, and N. H. Loesch, cashier of the Continental & Commercial National bank of Chicago; Emory Clark, president, W. J. Gray, vice-president, and Walter G. Nicholson, cashier, of the First and Old National bank of Detroit, Mich.; J. M. McIntosh, president, W. K. Sproule, vice-president, and W. J. Hogan, cashier, of the National City bank of Indianapolis, Ind.; L. G. Bourne, vice-president, and J. M. Hays, cashier, of the Wisconsin National bank of Milwaukee; and John M. Hugh, president, and H. A. Gooch, cashier, of the First National bank of Sioux City, Ia.

Certificates of incorporation of other regional reserve banks were signed at the following cities:

New York Dallas
St. Louis Atlanta
Kansas City Richmond
Minneapolis

It is expected by the treasury officials at Washington that the federal reserve system with all of its regional banks will be in operation by July 1.

JAIL FOR LABOR MEN

U. S. COURT RULES AGAINST 24 IRON WORKERS.

Men Directed to Surrender at Government Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., Before June 6.

Chicago, May 19.—Frank M. Hynn, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and 19 other members of the organization must report June 6 to resume the service of their sentences in Leavenworth penitentiary for conspiracy to transport dynamite on passenger trains. The explosive was used to wreck bridges and buildings erected by nonunion labor.

The United States circuit court of appeals issued a mandate on Saturday that the serving of sentences must be resumed within three weeks for all but six of the thirty members of the association originally sentenced.

The government opposed retrial of Richard H. Houlhan of Chicago, William Bernhardt of Cincinnati and Olaf Tychmoe of San Francisco, who will probably learn this week whether they will be granted new trials. This will depend upon the decision based upon the oral arguments.

The government offered no opposition to the retrials ordered for William J. McMinn of Kansas City, James E. Ray of Peoria and Fred Sherman of Indianapolis. No date has been set for the hearings.

Sentences of from one to seven years must be served by the 20 men who will go to prison in June. They were convicted of conspiracy to transport dynamite on passenger trains in 1910 and 1911. Involved in the case was the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building.

When the men affected by the mandate reach the federal prison there will be 24 iron workers in that penitentiary.

ASKS PEACE IN COLORADO

Wilson Informs Governor Ammons United States Troops Cannot Be Used Indefinitely.

Denver, Colo., May 19.—President Wilson served warning on Governor Ammons on Saturday that the state of Colorado must be prepared to maintain peace in the coal mine strike districts without federal aid. The president said federal troops would remain in the troubled districts "only until the state of Colorado has time and opportunity to resume complete sovereignty and control."

"I cannot conceive that the state is willing to forego her sovereignty or to throw herself entirely upon the government of the United States," said President Wilson.

In response, Governor Ammons telegraphed the president pointing out that an extra session of the legislature, which adjourned on Saturday, has provided a $1,000,000 bond issue to cover past and future expenses of the state militia. The governor expressed confidence that as soon as these funds are available the state will be able to control the situation.

Auto Explodes; Man Killed.

Columbus, O., May 19.—Joseph D. Firestone, aged fifty-five, manager of the Columbus Auto Sales company, burned to death when a tank of his automobile exploded. He was filling the tank and it is thought that the gasoline caught fire from a cigarette he was smoking.

$900,000 Fire Kills Man.

Galveston, Tex., May 19.—Fire destroyed a warehouse of the Merchants & Planters' Compress company, here, and damaged 11,000 bales of cotton. The loss is estimated at $900,000. An unidentified man was killed.

Zelle Emerson Is Back Home.

Jackson, Mich., May 19.—Zelle Emerson, who has figured in many strange escapades in England, has returned to the home of her mother here.

FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING

IN FOURTEEN COUNTIES OF THE UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN.

Lumber Camps, With All Equipment, Are Wiped Out—No Rain Is In Sight.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Escanaba, Mich.—Forest fires are raging in 14 counties of the upper peninsula. No lives so far have been reported lost, but homelessness is felt for homesteaders in the interior of some of the counties affected, particularly in the vicinity of Escanaba.

Three lumber camps, with all equipment, were burned at Turner. A million feet of logs were saved by the fire fighters, however. Two camps at Maple Ridge also were burned. Big fires are burning near Beaver, 30 miles from here. The wind continues high, and no rain is in sight.

Because of interrupted wire service but vague reports are coming from the isolated sections of the upper peninsula. One report said that Iron River, Wis., a mining town, had been almost wiped out, entailing a loss of $500,000. This has not been confirmed. Bridges on the South Shore railroad at Saxon, Wis., were burned.

Brush fires between Phoenix and Eagle river are threatening the latter town. The Quillo lumber camps at Sever Mile Point, Keweenaw, were destroyed. A shift of wind threatened farms in the Trap Rock Valley. In Otter Lake district, south of Houghton, several farm homes were destroyed and the farmers with their families forced to flee. Summer cottages at Twin Lakes were burned.

The town of Miles, near Petoskey, is in the path of the flames and seems doomed. It has a population of 1,000. Gwynne, with 3,000 inhabitants, also is threatened. Princeton, with 2,000 population, is surrounded by flames.

LOCK CASHIER IN VAULT.

Spokane, Wash.—Three bandits, who locked the cashier of the State Bank of Spangle, Wash., in the vault and escaped with between $1,000 and $5,000, were surrounded in the woods four miles from Waverly, Wash. They were trailed by bloodhounds from Moscow, Idaho, obtained by a sheriff's posse. O. W. Newton, cashier, was alone in the bank when the three men entered. They covered him with pistols and forced him into the vault and locked him in. The robbers then locked the front door, gathered into a sack all of the money in sight and walked out the back door.

WIRE ATTACHED TO TELEPHONE

New York.—Electricians working in the criminal courts building discovered a copper wire skillfully attached to the private telephone line of District Attorney C. E. Whitman. Investigation showed that the wires led over the roof of the building across Center street and disappeared into a third-floor room in a building on the opposite side. Whether the wires were attached to a telephonic device to be used in overhearing what went on in Mr. Whitman's office could not at first be ascertained.

Admits She Is Fat.
Stella Mayhew is fat—just plain fat. This is the term she herself applies to her avoirdupois, without trying to disguise it as "plump" or "stout." And she doesn't mind joking with herself about it.

On a certain occasion she was letting her audience into a few of her secrets.

"I have tried everything recommended to reduce," she admitted, "but I keep on getting fatter. Why, there isn't a thing I read about, guaranteed to take off flesh, that I don't try."

At this pause a woman seated in the second row, who had made herself conspicuous by several remarks during Miss Mayhew's talk, inquired: "Did you ever try poison?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

FACE ITCHED AND BURNED

383 No. Union St., Aurora, Ill.—"My ailment started with a little pimple and it always itched and burned terribly. I scratched it and in a few days my face was all covered with sores. It ran up to my eyes and the day after I could not see out of my right eye. I was unable to get any rest. I couldn't go to bed, being afraid of getting the clothing all soiled, although I had my face all bandaged.

"I was given two jars of salve but it kept getting worse. It was something like a running sore because every time I used some of the salve I had to wrap bandages around my neck to keep the water and pus from running down my body. I wrote for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in a few days I received these and washed my face with the Cuticura Soap and put on some Cuticura Ointment and the next morning my face felt cool and somewhat relieved. After using the sample I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I followed this treatment just twenty-six days and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was cured." (Signed) George Miller, Jan. 1, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address: postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Fatal Defect.

Rev. Bascom Anthony, a presiding elder of the Methodist church in southern Georgia, tells a story of a negro pastor down his way who failed to give satisfaction to his flock. A committee from the congregation waited on him to request his resignation. "Look here!" demanded the preacher. "What's de trouble wid mah preachin'?" "Don't I argufy?" "You sho' does, eldah," agreed the spokesman.

"Don't I 'spitly concern' de Scriptures?" "You rattlin' does," admitted the other.

"Den what's wrong?" "Well, eldah," stated the head of the committee, "his de way: You argufles and you 'spitfies, but you don't show wherelin'!"—Saturday Evening Post.

"Now, boys," said the schoolmaster, "I want you to bear in mind that the word 'stun' at the end of a word means 'the place of.' Thus we have Afghanistan—the place of the Afghans; also Hindustan—the place of the Hindus. Can anyone give me another example?"

Nobody appeared very anxious to do so until little Johnny Snaggs, the joy of his mother and the terror of the cats, said proudly:

"Yes, sir, I can. Umbrellastan—the place for umbrellas."

LIVING ADVERTISEMENT

Glow of Health Speaks for Postum.

It requires no scientific training to discover whether coffee disagrees or not.

Simply stop it for a time and use Postum in place of it, then note the beneficial effects. The truth will appear.

"Six years ago I was in a very bad condition," writes a Tenn. lady. "I suffered from indigestion, nervousness and insomnia.

"I was then an inveterate coffee drinker, but it was long before I could be persuaded that it was coffee that hurt me. Finally I decided to leave it off a few days and find out the truth. "The first morning I left off coffee I had a raging headache, so I decided I must have something to take the place of coffee." (The headache was caused by the reaction of the coffee drug—caffeine.)

"Having heard of Postum through a friend who used it, I bought a package and tried it. I did not like it at first but after I learned how to make it right, according to directions on pkg., I would not change back to coffee for anything.

"When I began to use Postum I weighed only 117 lbs. Now I weigh 170 and as I have not taken any tonic in that time I can only attribute my present good health to the use of Postum in place of coffee.

"My husband says I am a living advertisement for Postum."

Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

HELLO GIRLS ASK MORE PAY

TELEPHONE OPERATORS AT LEXINGTON ALSO COMPLAIN OF TOO LONG HOURS.

COMPANY REFUSES REQUESTS

Girls Work Nine Hours a Day, Seven Days a Week—Want to Have Sunday Off Once a Month.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Lexington, Ky.—Lexington is threatened with a strike of the telephone girls, and the public is anxiously waiting the result of the negotiations, which will, it is hoped, avert a walk-out. A committee of the operators composed of Misses Mary Wright, Callie Sullivan and Marie Dalton have presented a communication to President George S. Shanklin, of the Fayette Home Telephone Co. in which the grievances of the telephone girls were set forth as follows: At present there is no arrangement whereby the operators are given an opportunity to observe Sunday as a day of rest. We are working nine hours each day, seven days a week and are only allowed to take a day off when unable to work by reason of sickness. We respectfully submit that the force at present employed by your company is too small to handle the daily increasing business of the exchange. Please remember that we are human and, unlike the instruments we serve, can not go too rapid a pace without incurring the danger of a nervous breakdown. We ask that the company employ more operators to relieve the great strain due to an insufficient number of operators. We desire to call your attention to the unjust partiality and discrimination shown by those in charge of certain of the operators.

MINIMUM SALARY $40

Oldham County School Authorities Take Action Raising Salary Scale.

Lagrange, Ky.—All $35 positions in Oldham county schools were abolished at a joint meeting of the county board of education and the Lagrange board held here, and the minimum salary raised to $40 a month. It was decided, too, that only teachers holding first or second-class certificates should be eligible for positions. The term this year will be of seven months. W. L. Dawson, of Westminster, Md., was elected superintendent for the coming year. Mr. Dawson holds an A. B. degree from Wesleyan university, and taught for four years each at Paris and Campbellburg.

SOLD PLEDGED TOBACCO.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—Damages ranging from $75 to $525 are asked in ten suits filed here by the Farmers' Protective association of Kentucky and Tennessee against Christian county farmers, who are charged with selling their tobacco after having pledged it to the association. It is claimed that the parties sued, W. N. Taylor, W. W. D. Martin, S. H. King, W. M. Emery, J. B. Thweate, Mark Clark, E. E. Lacey, W. A. Sencley, J. H. McEachern and O. L. Barnes, signed an irrevocable contract employing the association to handle and sell their tobacco grown in 1913, and that this contract stipulated that the association was to receive $10.50 per hundred pounds as damages should the tobacco be sold through other channels. The claims are made on this basis. Several other suits of the same nature probably will be filed.

REPEAL OF LAW WANTED.

Louisville, Ky.—Repeal of the existing fire insurance law in Kentucky was urged at the annual meeting of the Kentucky State association of local fire insurance agents, which was held at the Seelbach, with probably 100 members present from various sections of the state. Thomas C. Timberlake, of Louisville, president, called the meeting to order.

STREETS IN PRIME CONDITION.

Danville, Ky.—J. M. Bailey, game warden of Boyle county, has received ten pairs of Hungarian quail, which have been liberated upon various farms.

FUNERAL OF JOHN C. C. MAYO AT PAINTSVILLE

MAYO IS LAID TO REST

Funeral Orators Pay Tribute to Dead Man's Virtues—Mourners From Near and Far.

Paintsville, Ky.—John C. C. Mayo, first citizen of the hills, sleeps among the mountains from which he sprang. The men of Paintsville by whose side he had walked in life laid him near their own in death. State officials and politicians, remembering that he was a power in their world, came to do his memory honor; capitalists and capitalists of industry likewise attended the last rites over the man who had been a lender among them. But for this it was Paintsville's burial of her own. It was in Johnson county that he spent the cycle of his days, and now that those days were done the hands that first clasped his own in youth were the ones that laid him in the sepulchre on the hill.

Trains from Louisville and Cincinnati brought friends and associates in many walks of life, each little station along the road augmenting the entourage. The last train to arrive before the funeral was a special from the East bearing Senator Clarence Watson, of West Virginia, and a party of financiers making a tour of the mining region of Kentucky and West Virginia. Among the prominent visitors were Gov. James B. McCreary, Attorney General Garnett, Secretary of State Crecelius, State Auditor Bosworth, Congressman Langley, Claude Terrell, speaker of the house at the last session of the general assembly; former Gov. Beckham, President Henry S. Barker, of State University at Lexington; State Democratic Chairman Vanzanti, Senator Clarence Watson, of West Virginia, and several state senators and representatives.

SETTLE WAGE SCALE

Miners Waive Contention in Matter of Weighing Methods.

Louisville, Ky.—Waiving their contention that the operators should not assume the right to change their methods of weighing coal during the existence of any wage scale agreement, the miners of the Western Kentucky field agreed to operator's proposal amended a bit during the meetings which have been in progress for some weeks past between the miners and operators. This announcement was made by Judge W. A. Wickliffe, of the operators.

K. OF P. FAIR BUYS GROUND.

Nicholasville, Ky.—The Knights of Pythias fair association has leased from Mrs. G. W. Stanley a bluegrass woodland a short distance from the city limits, for a period of ten years, and will begin at once the erection of an amphitheater and other buildings upon the ground. The fair will be held this year from August 25 to 27 inclusive.

APPOINTED DENTAL SURGEON.

Nicholasville, Ky.—Dr. R. B. Clark, a young dentist, has been appointed a dental surgeon in the United States army. Dr. Clark came here from Paris, Ky., about two years ago, and has built up a good practice. He is a graduate of the Louisville College of Dentistry.

WORK BEGUN ON BUILDING.

Danville, Ky.—Work has begun on the $80,000 chapel and dormitory building erected by the Kentucky College for Women.

FATHER OF NINETEEN DIES.

Central City, Ky.—The Rev. Joseph H. Hayes, a pioneer resident of the county, and for the last ten years a resident of Central City, died of tuberculosis. He was a retired minister of the Northern Methodist church and an old soldier. He was the father of nineteen children, only five of whom are living, he having buried ten after they had reached manhood and womanhood, and four as small children. He is survived by his wife.

CHURCH CONVENTION

Excellent Program For Tenth Annual District Convention Carried Out.

Richmond, Ky.—The tenth annual district convention of the Christian churches was in session here for two days' meeting. The program for the occasion was as follows:

Following the reports of the various branches of the association, Mrs. Louis Loom Campbell spoke on "Our New Plans." Conservation of the young women for Christian service, by Mrs. C. A. Thomas, and "Message," by Mrs. E. K. Payne, national secretary of Young People's Work, and Mrs. Walden, state secretary of Young People's Work.

"Children's Missionary Training," Mrs. John Arnold; "Their Programs," Mrs. Clell Williams; "Mission Study Class," H. M. Snay, D. W. Walker, F. M. Tindler and A. H. Baugh.

W. C. Bower and H. W. Elliott will talk on "The Call of Kentucky," "Bible Study and Prayer," A. H. Baugh; "The Business of the Kingdom," J. S. Hillon; "In Business for the Lord," H. S. Saxby; "The Bible School, an Adjunct," G. W. Nutter; "The School of Methods," W. E. Frazer; "Christian Education," Dr. R. H. Crossfield, Lexington, Ky.

TWO ORATORS ANNOUNCED.

Nicholasville, Ky.—At a meeting of John Morgan chapter, U. D. C., the program for Decoration day, June 3, was arranged. Ben Lee Hildin, of Harrodsburg, will make the address. Wood Dunlap, of Lexington, and King Slope, of Danville, will speak at the National cemetery, Camp Nelson, Decoration day, May 30.

NEW P. M. FOR MAYSVILLE.

Maysville, Ky.—Mark F. Kehoe, who was appointed postmaster of this city by President Wilson, has received his commission and will enter upon his duties as soon as the office can be turned over to him, which will be about June 1. He is the first Democratic postmaster this city had had in sixteen years.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT SURVEY.

Bowling Green, Ky.—Of the 450 miles which were traversed by the road survey party which spent last week in Warren county, 142 miles of road were carefully surveyed and recommended for immediate construction in the event of the successful issue of the bond election.

BLUE GRASS BRIEFS

Paintsville, Ky.—Many prominent Kentuckians were present at the funeral services of John C. C. Mayo last week. Dr. U. G. Foote, pastor of the Methodist Temple, Louisville, conducted the funeral services. Mayo's vast fortune of $20,000,000 is to be placed in the hands of a board of trustees.

Lexington, Ky.—Elder John S. Shouse, 73 years old, one of the founders of the Midway Orphan School and one of the most widely known ministers in the Christian church in Kentucky, died last week.

Frankfort, Ky.—The court of appeals has decided that the law providing for the commitment of felons under 21 years of age to the houses of reform is void.

Louisville, Ky.—I. T. Woodson has been appointed a colonel on Gov. McCreary's staff.

MISSIONARIES TO MALAY.

Cadiz, Ky.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mershon, who sailed recently from San Francisco for Singapore, Malay Peninsula, where they go as missionaries, have many relatives in Cadiz and Trigg county. Mr. Mershon was born in this county and is a nephew of John J. Jefferson and Mrs. W. P. Burrow of this place. He is also a nephew of the wife of the Rev. James H. Richardson, a member of the Louisville Methodist Conference, who is now stationed at Lafayette.

ACT PROMPTED BY SENTIMENT

FRANKFORT BANKER WILL REDEEM MAY ISSUE CONFEDERATE PENSION WARRANTS.

SAVED FROM PENSION SHARKS

Instructions Accompany Each Warrent Mailed By State Treasurer—Syndicate After Coat Leases.

MONEY FOR KY. VETERANS.

Frankfort, Ky.—Five hundred warrants, amounting to $100,000, and 1,790 checks at $20 each were mailed by State Treasurer Ithea to Confederate veterans.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.—Because he wished to save his old comrades in arms from the hands of pension "shavers," E. E. Hoge, president of the State National Bank, of Frankfort, has volunteered to redeem at their face value the May issue of Confederate pension warrants, which have been sent out by State Treasurer Thomas S. Shea. The issue aggregates more than $100,000. The quarterly distribution of $30 will be paid in checks from the state treasury; but those who have been added to the pension list since the February distribution will draw back pay at the rate of $10 the month from the date of their application, some of them drawing pay from July, 1912, when the law went into effect. Warrants will be issued to them.

The pension warrants have been mailed to the pensioners. Accompanying each warrant were instructions to the pensioner to present the warrant at his local bank and inform the bankers that the State National Bank at Frankfort will take the warrant at its face value. In this way the pensioners will receive the full amount of their pension at once by presenting them at their local banks.

$553,998 in Premiums Over Losses.

Figures on file in the office of the state rating board show that in the last twenty years the people of Frankfort have paid in fire insurance premiums $553,998 more than the companies paid back in losses. The total amount of premiums paid was $1,542,772, and the losses for the twenty years aggregated $988,774. From 1894 to 1898, inclusive, premiums aggregated $271,326, and losses $234,282, a difference of only $37,042. For the next five years the premiums amounted to $315,592 and the losses to $132,750, a difference of $182,842. For the next five years the premiums amounted to $418,815 and losses amounted to $150,036, a difference of $268,779. For the five years, including 1913, the premiums amounted to $553,998 and the losses to $186,666, a difference of $367,332.

Slattery U. S. Attorney.

Thomas D. Slattery, of Maysville, who this week was appointed United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, vice Edwin P. Morrow, resigned, will take charge of his office at Covington June 1. Slattery isn't a victim of the "thirteen jinx," in fact, it is a lucky number for him. He is the thirteenth son of his father, and he is a pretty husky, healthy individual with hundreds of friends. He is a graduate of "Old Center" college at Danville, and has been practicing law for 20 years at Maysville.

Examiners Are Appointed.

Gov. McCreary has appointed the following board of examiners for trained nurses: Mary Alexander, Louisville; Harriett Cheek, Lexington; Flora Keen, Franklin; Mrs. Ella Green Davis, Owensboro; Sophia Steinhauer, Dayton; W. R. Rice, of Louisville, and W. R. Myers, of Columbia, were appointed by Gov. McCreary and Attorney General Garnett, respectively, as a State Board of Examiners for chauffeurs.

Assessment Changes.

The state board of equalization increased the assessments of Oldham and Metcalfe counties 6 per cent on lands, but let the assessments of Marion and Nelson counties stand. The board increased the assessment of Letcher county 10 per cent on farm lands, Harlan county 10 per cent on farm lands, and Hart county 5 per cent on farm lands.

Bank Assessments Fixed.

The State Board of Valuation and Assessment fixed the assessment of the capital stock of banks and trust companies at 80 per cent of its cash value for taxation purposes.

To Test Constitutionality.

The constitutionality of the Greene River insurance act giving the state rating board power to regulate fire insurance rates is to be attacked by the insurance companies opposing its enforcement. Former Chief Justice E. C. O'Rear has been employed to bring the suit to prevent its enforcement. He has been in conference with Attorney General Garnett to agree on a date to institute the action. The purpose of the suit at this time is to get a construction of the act by the court of appeals.

Old English Stock in Kentucky.

President Frost of Berea college, in the Quarterly issued by that useful institution, makes some extremely interesting statements. They go far toward confirming the frequently heard assertion that the purest Anglo-Saxon stock in this country is to be found in the mountainous districts of Kentucky and Tennessee. President Frost declares that in the thirty-five counties of Eastern Kentucky there are to be found but 2,000 foreigners and 13,000 negroes in a total population of 561,881. In six counties only are there more than 100 foreigners, and in sixteen counties there are less than ten. In only five counties do the negroes exceed 1,000, and in twelve counties there are less than 100.

These are extremely interesting figures. They relate to a section of the country which President Frost, using a self-chosen phrase, calls a "super-racial district," meaning thereby that the inhabitants live in remote locations where intermixture is infrequent. Here the original English and Scotch settlers have reproduced their kind generation after generation. It is said by investigators that many of the ancient English ballads are still preserved in practically their original form in the Kentucky mountains.

Brief in Text Book Case.

In the brief filed in the court of appeals in the suit brought by A. J. Carroll, of Louisville, and Hazelrigg & Hazelrigg, of Frankfort, attorneys for one of the book concerns, in the name of Andy Bowman, of Fayette county, against State Superintendent Hamlett and Attorney General Garnett, in which the new state textbook commission law is at issue, arguments are advanced in favor of declaring the law unconstitutional because "the title when read in connection with the body of the act violates Section 51, of the constitution; the legislative intent as to elites of the first four classes cannot be clearly ascertained; the act imposes conditions impossible of fulfillment by the great majority of publishers of textbooks, and thereby unreasonably restricts the bidding for furnishing books for use in the common schools of Kentucky."

Applicants For Attorneyship.

The department of justice stated that the following are applicants for the position of United States district attorney at Louisville, which office is to be filled shortly: William Foster, Princeton; Samuel H. Crossland, Paducah; John C. Duffy, Hopkinsville; Hugh B. Fleece, Louisville; W. A. Helm, Morgantown; John G. Miller, Paducah; Glynn O. Letcher, Henderson, and Wesley V. Perry, Russellville. John G. Miller, however, is over 60 years of age, so his application will be rejected by the department.

Land Tax Rates Raised.

The State Board of Equalization has increased the assessments of lands in Shelby county 5 per cent and of lands in Spencer county 12 per cent.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

Strict enforcement of the child labor law, which will go into effect next month, is promised by J. W. Newman, commissioner of agriculture, labor and statistics, who is making arrangements for putting the act into operation. In first, second and third class cities children between the ages of 14 and 16 in order to secure a permit to quit school, must be able to read and write and show that they have advanced in arithmetic as far as common fractions; they must present to the school superintendent a certificate of employment signed by their employers, who is required, when the employment ceases, to notify the superintendent. Girls under 18 and boys under 14 are forbidden street employment or the selling and delivery of papers, and boys over 14 may work only between the hours of 6 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The State Sinking Fund Commissioners held a long conference here with expert accountants in regard to the installation of a uniform accounting system, but the contract was not let as one bidder was not present. Dr. L. G. Parks, Washington; Goodloe & Medford, of Louisville; Charles H. Wentzel, of Cincinnati; Willison Ault Co., of Clarksville, W. Va., and Perline & Nichols, of New York, are bidders estimated on the work it will require to install the system make the cost range from $3,000 to $10,000.

The State Board of Valuations and Assessment have assessed banks and trust companies and life insurance companies chartered in Kentucky at 80 per cent of the total value of their capital, surplus, undivided profits and other assets. Taxes on these assessments are due and payable on or before July 1.

Get Fraternal Insurance.

Affirming the judgment of the Trigg circuit court in the case of the Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World, against Mrs. Lizzie A. Landrum, the appellate court held that this society must pay to Mrs. Landrum and her sisters $1,000 due on a certificate issued to their brother, Alfred Wallis. The sisters were the beneficiaries. The certificate contained a clause making it null and void if the holders of it came to his death by his own hands while sane or insane.

DE LA BARRA TO SUCCEED HUERTA

Dictator Summons Former Provisional Head From France to Take Presidency.

URRUTIA FLEES TO SAFETY

Taken Aboard German Ship Under Guard of U. S. Troops—Dictator Drives Envoy of Pope From City of Mexico.

Vera Cruz, May 20.—Mexican newspapers in Vera Cruz announced that Francisco de la Barra had been summoned by President Huerta from France to become his successor. They state that the announcement is based on "reliable advices from Mexico City." De la Barra has served as provisional president of Mexico and has held high positions in official and diplomatic corps.

That the coils are tightening around Huerta was learned from two sources. Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, Huerta's former minister of the interior, said that he expected a "great crash" in the capital within eight days and local papers received address stating that Huerta's personal bodyguard had melted.

The members of the bodyguard were known as the national palace lancers. The organization was effected a year ago. The lancers refused to go north to fight the rebels and were either arrested or took to flight.

Senor Marques, a Spaniard who drilled them, escaped from the capital on a train wearing the garb of a peon.

"I believe that eight days will not pass before terrible things are witnessed in the capital," said Dr. Urrutia. "If Huerta and those attaining power with him will retire the nation will be saved."

Urrutia Flees to German Ship. Dr. Urrutia later fled to the German liner Ypiranga under guard of American soldiers to escape assassination at the hands of Mexicans who hold him responsible for the murder of relatives or friends at the capital. Urrutia came here from Mexico City to escape execution by Huerta, who has turned against him, and in the afternoon he was mobbed by Mexicans who shrieked for his death.

Huerta Banishes Archbishop. Archbishop Mora y del Rio was driven out of Mexico City by Provisional President Huerta, according to information received here. The archbishop, the story says, sought an interview with Huerta, which at first was refused, but later accorded upon the representation that the churchman had a communication from the pope. The communication, it is said, proved to be a suggestion that Huerta resign. The president seemed to take this advice dispassionately, making no reply. On the following day, however, a messenger came to the archbishop with a warning from Huerta that he would do well to leave the country.

Private Parks Is Dead. All hope that Private Samuel Parks, the American soldier who wandered into the Mexican federal lines, had escaped death was destroyed here. The two horses which Parks had with him when he disappeared were returned to the American forces without explanation as to Parks. The horses belong to Lieut. Col. Elmore F. Taggart of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. They were sent by train from the federal headquarters at Soledad.

Mexican Envoys Arrive. International Mediation Headquarters, Clifton Hotel, Niagara Falls, Ontario, May 20.—Canadian customs regulations were waived for the benefit of the Latin-American envoys who are trying to patch up peace in Mexico. The baggage of Ambassador da Gama and Minister Naon were passed without inspection. Similar action will be taken in respect to Minister Suarez of Brazil, the only mediator yet to arrive.

Both the envoys here said that they expected little would be done at Wednesday's conference. The real work will begin on Thursday. Ambassador da Gama went for an automobile ride and Minister Naon followed later, taking his eleven-year-old son, Itumalo, with him.

U. S. Envoys Are Off to Parley. Washington, May 20.—As spokesmen for the United States to the mediation conference which will seek to settle the differences between this government and General Huerta and to establish peace in Mexico, Associate Justice Lamar, former Solicitor General Lehmann and H. Perelval Dodge, secretary to the commission, left Washington for Niagara Falls, Ont.

The departure of the American commissioners was without any formalities beyond the presence of several officials to bid them good-by and success to their mission. Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehmann chatted with their friends, expressing a hopeful view, and then boarded their private car, attached to the regular Lehigh Valley train. With them in the car are their staff of secretaries and stenographers and several press representatives.

To Keep in Touch With Wilson. Before leaving the commissioners completed arrangements to keep in close touch with the White House and state department on the various stages of development at the conference. They refused, however, to discuss their mission or the instructions they had received in their conference with President Wilson.

Death Penalty For Murder

On Tuesday of this week, a jury of Whitley county returned a verdict of guilty, and inflicting the death penalty to Elouza Stroud, for the murder of Hubert Bryant, of Corbin.

This crime was committed sometime in April, and there was strong talk of lynching this fellow Stroud, but it was averted, and the jury, when the case was submitted to them, made short work of the case.

It looks as though this is the only way in which to put a stop to the lawlessness in this country, and in some cases we believe that this should be done, though, we would much rather see murderers otherwise dealt with. If it were not for the use of

Cutting Scrap Near Warren

A special to the Advocate, from Warren, by our correspondent, "Mutt," says: A very serious cutting allay took place Sunday afternoon near Warren, when George Lee seriously cut Arthur Brown with a pocket knife, the blade penetrating the right lung, cutting one of his ribs in two. The wounded man was brought to Warren and Dr. Sneed, with the assistance of Dr. Jones, of Artemus, and C. F. Kane, dressed the wound. It was necessary to place him under the influence of chloroform and for nearly an hour the doctors worked hard trying to staunch the flow of blood and sew the arteries and his rib back together again. The wounded man was taken to his home at Wheeler, Monday morning and seems to have a fair chance of recovery. Both of the parties were employees of the Brush Creek Mining Co. and had always been the best of friends. From eye witnesses of the affair, it seems that young Brown had been drinking and raised a fuss with Lee as the latter was passing along the road on a mule. Lee has always been considered a peaceable man and no one regrets it more than he, but he stated from Brown's action he thought he was going to shoot, and he cut him in self defense. Lee was arrested at his home Sunday afternoon and taken to Barbourville, and is now out on a small bond.

Are you a Mule? If not why not give your petition to John H. Lawson, Lead Mule.

THE MULE AND THE MAN

The Mule—he is a gentle beast; And so is man.
He's satisfied to be the least; And so is man.
Like man he may be taught some tricks;
He does his work from eight to six;
The mule—when he gets mad, he kicks.
And so does man.
The mule—He has a load to pull; and so does man.
He's happiest when he is full; And so is man.
Like man he holds a patient pose;
And when his work is done will rejoice;
The mule—he likes to bear his load;
And so does man.
The mule is sometimes kind and good;
And so is man.
He eats all kinds of breakfast food;
And so does man.
Like man he balks at gaudy dress,
And all outlandish foolishness;
The mule's accused of foolishness;
And so is man.

whiskey and cards in most cases this would not be, as in 95 cases out of every 100 whiskey or cards is the cause, it was these two evils that cost life of Hubert Bryant, and this young man, Stanifer, and caused this poor colored man to go to the Electric Chair.

NOW HER FRIENDS HARDLY KNOW HER

But This Does Not Bother Mrs. Burton, Under the Circumstances.

Houston, Texas.—In an interesting letter from this city, Mrs. S. C. Burton writes as follows: "I think it is my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.

I was down sick with womanly trouble, and my mother advised several different treatments, but they didn't seem to do me any good. I lingered along for three or four months, and for three weeks. I was in bed, so sick I couldn't bear for any one to walk across the floor.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken two bottles of Cardui, am feeling fine, gained 15 pounds and do all of my housework. Friends hardly know me, I am so well."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, don't allow the trouble to become chronic. Begin taking Cardui to-day. It is purely vegetable, its ingredients acting in a gentle, natural way on the weakened womanly constitution. You run no risk in trying Cardui. It has been helping weak women back to health and strength for more than 50 years. It will help you. At all dealers.

Zentaro Kawase, professor of forestry at the imperial university of Tokio, Japan, has been making a tour of the national forests of this country to learn the government's methods of selling timber and of reforestation.

Forest botanists recognize only one cypress in the United States. Its range extends from Delaware southward around the coast into Texas and up the Mississippi valley to Illinois and Indiana. It is one of the few cone-bearing trees which drop their leaves in winter. The heartwood of cypress is noted for its decay-resistant properties.

SYNOPSIS.

Eleanora de Toscana was singing in Paris, which, perhaps, accounted for Edward Courtland's appearance there. Multitudinal, he wandered about where fancy dictated. He might be in Paris one day and Knochka the next. Following the opera he goes to a cafe and is accosted by a pretty young woman. She gives him the address of Flora Desmone, vocal rival of Toscani, and Flora gives him the address of Eleanora, whom he is determined to see. Courtland enters Eleanora's apartments. She orders him out and shoots at him. The next day Paris is shocked by the mysterious disappearance of the prima donna.

CHAPTER IV—Continued.

"There's the dusky princess peeking out again. The truth is, Abby, if I could hide myself for three or four years, long enough for people to forget me, I might reconsider. But it should be under another name. They envy us millionaires. Why, we are the loneliest of all. We distrust every one; we fly when a woman approaches; we become monomaniacs; one thing obsesses us, everybody is after our money. We want friends, we want wives, but we want them to be attracted to us and not to our money-bags. Oh, phew! What plans have you made in regard to the search?"

Gloom settled upon the artist's face. "I've got to find out what's happened to her, Ted. This isn't any play. Why, she loves the part of Marguerite as she loves nothing else. She's been kidnapped, and only God knows for what reason. It has knocked me silly. I just came up from Corno, where she spends the summers now. I was going to take her and Fournier out to dinner."

"Who's Fournier?"

"Mademoiselle Fournier, the composer. She goes with Nora on the yearly concert tours."

"Pretty?"

"Charming."

"I see," thoughtfully. "What part of the lake; the Villa d'Este, Cadenabbia?"

"Bellagio. Oh, it was ripping last summer. She's always singing when she's happy. When she sings out on the terrace, suddenly, without giving anyone warning, her voice is wonderful. No audience ever heard anything like it."

"I heard her Friday night. I dropped in at the opera without knowing what they were singing. I admit all you say in regard to her voice and looks; but I stick to the whim."

"But you can't fake that chap with the blond mustache," retorted Abbott grimly. "Lord, I wish I had run into you any day but today. I'm all in. I can telephone to the Opera from the studio, and then we shall know for a certainty whether or not she will return for the performance tonight. If not, then I'm going in for a little detective work."

"Abby, it will turn out to be the sheep of Little Bo-Peep."

"Have your own way about it."

When they arrived at the studio Abbott telephoned promptly. Nothing had been heard. They were substituting another singer.

"Call up the Herald," suggested Courtland.

Abbott did so. And he had to answer innumerable questions, questions which worked him into a fine rage; who was he, where did he live, what did he know, how long had he been in Paris, and could he prove that he had arrived that morning? Abbott wanted to fling the receiver into the mouth of the transmitter, but his patience was presently rewarded. The singer had not yet been found, but the chauffeur of the mysterious car had turned up in a hospital, and perhaps by night they would know everything. The chauffeur had had a bad accident; the car itself was a total wreck, in a ditch, not far from Versailles.

"There!" cried Abbott, slamming the receiver on the hook. "What do you say to that?"

"The chauffeur may have left her somewhere, got drunk afterward, and plunged into the ditch. Things have happened like that. Abby, don't make a camel's hair shirt out of your paint-brushes. What a potter about a singer! If it had been a great inventor, a poet, an artist, there would have been nothing more than a two-line paragraph. But an opera singer, one who entertains us during our idle evenings—hal that's a different matter. Set instantly that great municipal machinery called the police in action; call extra editions on the streets. What ado!"

"What the devil makes you so bitter?"

"Was I bitter? I thought I was philosophizing." Courtland consulted his watch. Half after four. "Come over to the Maurice and dine with us tomorrow night, that is, if you do not find your prima donna. I've an engagement at five-thirty, and must be off."

"I was about to ask you to dine with me tonight," disappointedly.

"Can't; awfully sorry, Abby. It was only luck that I met you in the Luxembourg. He over about seven. I was very glad to see you again."

Abbott kicked a broken case into a corner. "All right. If anything turns up I'll let you know. You're at the Grand?"

"Yes. By-by."

"I know what's the matter with him," mused the artist, alone. "Some woman has chucked him. Silly little fool, probably."

Courtland went down stairs and out into the boulevard. Frankly, he was beginning to feel concerned. He still held to his original opinion that the diva had disappeared of her own free will; but if the machinery of the police had been started, he realized that his own safety would eventually become involved. By this time, he reasoned, there would not be a hotel in Paris free of surveillance. Naturally, blond strangers would be in demand. The complications that would follow his own arrest were not to be ignored. He agreed with his conscience that he had not acted with dignity in forcing his way into her apartment. But that night he had been at odds with convention; his spirit had been that of the marauding old Dutchman of the seventeenth century. He perfectly well knew that she was in the right as far as the pistol-shot was concerned. Further, he knew that he could quash any charge she might make in that direction by the simplest of declarations; and to avoid this simplest of declarations she would prefer silence above all things. They knew each other tolerably well.

It was extremely fortunate that he had not been to the hotel since Saturday. He went directly to the war office. The great and powerful man there was the only hope left. They had met some years before in Algiers, where Courtland had rendered him a very real service.

"I did not expect you to the minute," the great man said pleasantly. "You will not mind waiting for a few minutes."

"Not in the least. Only, I'm in a deuce of a mess," frankly and directly. "Innocently enough, I've stuck my head into the police net."

"Is it possible that now I can pay my debt to you?"

"Such as it is. Have you read the article in the newspapers regarding the disappearance of Signorina de Toscana, the singer?"

"Yes."

"I am the unknown blond. Tomorrow morning I want you to go with me to the prefecture and state that I was with you all of Saturday and Sunday; that on Monday you and your wife dined with me, that yesterday we went to the aviation meet, and later to the Odeon."

"In brief, an alibi?" smiling now.

"Exactly. I shall need one."

"And I perfectly good alibi. But I have your word that you are in no wise concerned? Pardon the question, but between us it is really necessary if I am to be of service to you."

"On my word as a gentleman."

"That is sufficient."

"In fact, I do not believe that she has been abducted at all. Will you let me use your pad and pen for a minute?"

The other pushed over the required articles. Courtland scrawled a few words and passed back the pad.

"For me to read?"

"Yes," moodily.

The Frenchman read. Courtland watched him anxiously. There was not even a flicker of surprise in the official eye. Calmly he ripped off the sheet and tore it into bits, distributing the pieces into the various waste baskets yawning about his long flat desk. Next, still avoiding the younger man's eye, he arranged his papers neatly and looked them up in a huge safe which only the artillery of the German army could have forced. He then called for his hat and stick. He beckoned to Courtland to follow. Not a word was said until the car was humming on the road to Vincennes.

"Well?" said Courtland, finally. It was not possible for him to hold back the question any longer.

"My dear friend, I am taking you out to the villa for the night."

"But I have nothing..."

"And I have everything, even fore-sight. If you were arrested tonight it would cause you some inconvenience. I am fifty-six, some twenty years your senior. Under this hat of mine I carry a thousand secrets, and every one of these thousands must go to the grave with me, yours along with them. I have met you a dozen times since those Algerian days, and never have you failed to afford me some amusement or excitement. You are the most interesting and entertaining young man I know. Try one of these cigars."

Precisely at the time Courtland stepped into the automobile outside the war office, a scene, peculiar in character, but inconspicuous in that it did not attract attention, was enacted in the Gare de l'Est. Two sober-visaged men stood respectfully aside to permit a tall young man in a Bavarian hat to enter a compartment of the second class. What could be seen of the young man's face was full of smothered wrath and disappointment. How he hated himself, for his weakness, for his cowardice! He was not all bad. Knowing that he was being watched and followed, he could not go to Versailles and compromise her, uselessly. The devil take the aleck demon of a woman who had prompted him to commit so base an act!

"You will at least," he said, "deliver that message which I have entrusted to your care."

"It shall reach Versailles tonight, your highness."

The young man reread the telegram which one of the two men had given him a moment since. It was a command which even he, wilful and disobedient as he was, dared not ignore. He ripped it into shreds and flung them out of the window. He did not apologize to the man into whose face the pieces flew. That gentleman reddened perceptibly, but he held his tongue. The blare of a horn announced the time of departure. The train moved. The two men on the platform saluted, but the young man ignored the salutation. Not until the rear car disappeared in the hazy distance did the watchers stir. Then they left the station and got into the tonneau of a touring car, which shot away and did not stop until it drew up before that imposing embassy upon which the French will always look with more or less auspicion.

CHAPTER V.

The Bird Behind Bars.

The most beautiful blue Irish eyes in the world gazed out at the dawn which turned night-blue into day-blue and paled the stars. Rosal lay the undulating horizon, presently to burst into living flame, transmuting the dull steel bars of the window into fairy gold, that trick of alchemy so fully sought by man. There was a window at the north and another at the south, likewise barred; but the Irish eyes never sought these two. It was from the east window only that they could see the long white road that led to Paris.

The nightingale was truly caged. But the wild heart of the eagle beat in this nightingale's breast, and the eyes burned as fiercely toward the east as the east burned toward the west. Sunday and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday, today; and that the five downs were singular in beauty and that she had never in her life before witnessed the creation of five days, one after another, made no impression upon her sense of the beautiful, so delicate and receptive in ordinary times. She was conscious that within her the cup of wrath was overflowing. Of other things, such as eating and sleeping and moving about in her cage (more like an eagle indeed than a nightingale), recurrence had blunted her perception.

"Oh, but he shall pay, he shall pay!" she murmured, striving to loosen the bars with her small, white, helpless hands. The cry seemed to be an aria, for through all these four maddening days she had voiced it—now low and deadly with hate, now full-toned in burning anger, now broken by sobs of despair. "Will you never come, so that I may tell you how base and vile you are?" she further addressed the east.

She had waited for his appearance on Sunday. Late in the day one of the jailers had informed her that it was impossible for the gentleman to come before Monday. So she marshaled her army of phrases, of accusations, of denunciations, ready to smother him with them the moment he came. But he came not Monday, nor Tuesday, nor Wednesday. The suspense was to her mind diabolical. She began to understand; he intended to keep her there till he was sure that her spirit was broken, then he would come. Break her spirit? She laughed wildly. He could break her spirit no more easily than she could break these bars. To bring her to Versailles upon an errand of mercy! Well, he was capable of anything.

She was not particularly distressed because she knew that it would not be possible for her to sing again until the following winter in New York. She had sobbed too much, with her face buried in the pillow. Had these sobs been born of weakness, all might have been well; but rage had mothered them, and thus her voice was in a very bad way. This morning she was noticeably hoarse, and there was a break in the aria. No, she did not fret over this side of the calamity. The fret of it all lay in the fact that she had been outraged in the matter of personal liberty, with no act of reprisal to ease her immediate longing to be avenged.

KEEP IN MIND WHEN WRITING

It One Would Be Cressed as a Well-come Correspondent These Must Be Remembered.

Be yourself, strive for the expression of your own thoughts, write with all the force of your personality, and you will be projecting your mind on the mind of the friend who is to draw delight from your letter. Write with the conscious wish to express truthfully and well that which you have to say, abjure slovenly makeshift, and just as strongly, the self-consciousness which keeps one eye on the purpose in hand and one on effect.

Remember always that there is the possibility of publicity for your letter, and if you have malice, cruelty, or uncharitableness in your mind, at least see that you do not commit your feelings to paper, to your possible confusing at some later date, when kindness has replaced your former harsh judgment.

Remembering all these things, you will have no need for the services of a complete letter writer. Guided by sincerity and truth, you may proceed to give your thoughts the graven permanence of writing.

Step Lively.

"You use different horns for different dances, I suppose?" asked the sweet young thing.

"Oh, yes," replied the musician.

"What horn do you think best for a polka-step?"

"Oh, the auto-horn, by all means."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By O. E. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MAY 24

UNPROFITABLE SERVANTS.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 17:10. GOLDEN TEXT—"He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord." 1 Cor. 1:31.

This lesson is closely connected with that of last week; while spoken especially to his disciples it was most probably at the same time and in the same atmosphere as that of the other lesson. The teaching is a continuation of that just given and which grew out of the hospitality Jesus received in the Pharisee's house. The heart of Jesus was filled with compassion for the needy multitude. He, the Good Shepherd, was seeking the lost sheep. His anger was kindled against the men whose love of money and of show had clouded them in the presence of this multitude. It was in this spirit that he turned and taught his disciples.

A Special Warning.

I. "Take Heed to Yourselves," vv. 1-4. It is inevitable that occasion of stumbling shall come. Satan is not going to lose his spoil without putting forth his best endeavor to hold, to ensnare, to trap men. God, however, has taken this into his plan and makes them to work out for the good of his people, Ps. 76:10; 11 Cor. 12:7. Why does God permit evil in the world? He uses these stumbling blocks to test us and we who are approved are made manifest, 1 Cor. 11:10. This does not mean that we are guiltless if through one we fall, nor minimize the guilt of the one through whom they come, see Matt. 18:7. We as followers must go to every possible length to avoid being an occasion to another, 1 Cor. 5:9, 13; 10:32; Rom. 14:13. In this lesson (v. 2) Jesus sounds a special warning against those who cause one of his little ones to stumble, e. g., those weak in faith, this hungering multitude who follow him, these "babes in Christ," as well as children of tender years. Particularly, however, is this doom pronounced upon those who divert from paths of righteousness the course of childhood. Not only men who prey upon those of tender years, who exploit their labor or cause their moral corruption, but careless and indifferent parents should ponder these words. To hinder a child from accepting Christ or cause it to stumble through a sinful example will reap an awful retribution. The word "these" as here used is another indication of the nearness of childhood to our Lord in his earthly life.

To avoid such a danger each individual life must "take heed" (v. 3), (1 Tim. 5:16). Appealing to his disciples Jesus showed them their true attitude towards a sinning man was to rebuke him, Lev. 19:17, and if he repented he should be forgiven. It was here that the Pharisees and rulers had failed. They were "blind leaders of the blind" and failed to see the eagerness of the sinners and publicans to hear Jesus, a movement which indicated a desire to reach a higher moral plane. Understanding this, they would have forgiven them even though it be unto "seven times in the day." Forgiveness here means to dismiss or to send away.

Nothing Impossible.

II. "Increase Our Faith," vv. 5-10. Such a program as that just outlined must have staggered the apostles as they thought of their own inability to conduct their lives. This exclamation reveals their sense of the importance, superiority and difficulty of his ideals. As we come into personal fellowship with our Lord that the eyes of our understanding are opened and we see our importance and the necessity of having him fulfil in us that which is lacking of his ideals. Their petition was a recognition of ability as well as of their need. In response to our cry he will supply, Mark 9:24-27. Nothing is impossible to him (v. 6), Phil. 4:13. The illustration is one easy to remember. The insignificant little seed of the mustard has in it tremendous power of growth and development, many thousand times its own weight and bulk, see Matt. 13:31, 32, because it is linked with God's tremendous laws of life, with omnipotence. Our Lord contrasts such power with the removal of a sycamore tree; small wonder we receive such a vivid and lasting lesson of the power of faith, even the weakest faith. Faith is a principle necessary to overcome the obstacles in the way of measuring up to his ideals if it is of the right quality. It is equal to the doing of the most mighty things. Passing from this contrast Jesus uses the parable which follows (vs. 7-10). The word "but" would suggest an apparent departure from this subject. It is, however, a correction of any false idea that may have arisen that the doing of duty can be the cause of boastfulness or create any rights whereby we may expect any special reward for service. The disciples, as has been suggested, realized the difficulty of obeying his commands, yet they knew that such obedience would assure them the highest rewards of faith. His words implied and warranted such a conclusion, hence he warns them not to make the reward the motive of their service.

REVENUE FOR WAR

Reimposition of Sugar Duty Would Be Politic.

Reductions Under the New Tariff Bill Have Not Perceptibly Lowered Prices to Consumers, While Country Loses Millions.

Thin ways and means of raising money, to carry on a contest with Mexico is the most important question that congress has to consider. All sorts of methods are discussed, including, of course, the imposition of the old annual levies known as the Spanish war taxes.

We assume, without question, that these special taxes will be once more imposed. Experience showed that they were easily borne by the people, were productive of a large revenue, and were popular and efficient war taxes in every way. But we beg to suggest, very respectfully, that congress take up seriously the idea of restoring the duty on sugar that was needlessly taken off in the last tariff bill. The cost of collecting the duty was trivial, and whether the tariff rate on sugar was raised or lowered did not change the price to the consumer one whit.

The first reduction of the sugar duty under the new tariff took effect on March 1, and the larger reduction does not take effect until May 1 two years hence. However, even as it is, the proceeds of our customs duties are already $27,000,000 less for the current fiscal year than they were for the previous year, and if the entire reductions on sugar contemplated in the present law were in effect at this moment they would ensure a loss of $25,000,000 in addition to the $27,000,000 that has already occurred.

In 1912, the last year of the old tariff, the revenue from the sugar duties amounted to a little over fifty million dollars. What possible reason is there why the government of the United States should not be once more in receipt of this sum, at least while the Mexican war lasts? If, as the administration had apparently anticipated, "free sugar" had resulted in a perceptible lowering of the cost of sugar to the family, the case would be different. But no shadow of the much-to-be-desired result can be perceived even by the most optimistic.

"The Old Man of the Sea."

Rumors that Secretary Bryan is about to leave the cabinet are denied stoutly. That does not necessarily signify. Such rumors are apt to be denied. Quite frequently, however, they are proved to be forerunners of the fact. If also frequently they expire as rumors. Mr. Bryan has no mandate from the people in his office, of course. He is simply a highly favored politician. Three times rejected for president, his unappreciative fellow-countrymen hold him at a president's right hand. If he is not the power behind the throne he is firmly seated on an arm of it. And there is no provision for a recall. The Democratic party thought it had chosen Woodrow Wilson in preference to William J. Brynne to be its standard bearer, but the latter has hold of the stick, too.—Providence Journal.

Clothing Under the New Tariff.

A Staten Island man writes to a New York newspaper asking: "Are clothes cheaper now because of the tariff reduction?" Perhaps he hasn't bought any clothes lately, and is merely asking for information. Perhaps, on the other hand, he has been buying clothes, and has discovered, as others have discovered, that it costs more now to acquire the apparel that off proclaims the man than it did before the tinkers at Washington performed their tinkering. In that contingency, no doubt he is "mad clear through," and asks his question with deliberate intention of making trouble for the administration of President Wilson.

Foreign Eggs by the Million.

In the wisdom of those who control the American government in these days the duty has been removed from eggs. In consequence of this removal there arrived the other day on the Pacific coast from China a ship carrying a thousand tons of eggs. The actual number was 6,792,360. Most of these were consigned to points in the United States.

The purpose of removing the tariff in the minds of the removers was to make eggs cheaper.

Has any American breakfast table been served with an egg this year at less price than a year ago?

Speaking about the next Democratic platform, more things are accumulating for the "we view with alarm" section than for the "we point with pride" column.

Only Hope Is Roosevelt.

Without men and means, the Progressives have only Roosevelt to depend on. If they make independent nominations their party will divide. If they form an alliance with the Democrats, many will return to their first love, the G. O. P.

Their one hope, then, is Roosevelt, and it may be seriously questioned whether his influence will be sufficient to hold together his disintegrating party without money or issue or leaders in a campaign when only state elections will be involved.

WESTERN CANADA'S PROSPECTS FOR 1914

Excellent Spring for Work and Wheat Seeding About Finished.

The writer has just returned from an extensive trip through the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, in Western Canada. The crop conditions are the very best, and no one locality seems to have an advantage over another in this respect. The uniformity in growth is remarkable, and in all parts of the three provinces spring wheat at the time of writing, May 10th, is well above the ground, from two to three inches. Considerable fall plowing was done last year, and this, with the summer fallow, is already seeded, so that practically when seeding is over by this date. Everywhere the farmers are busy and the whole country presents one great scene of activity—three-horse, four-horse and five-horse teams are busy preparing land for barley, oats and flax. On some of the larger farms batteries of steam and gasoline outfits are at work, but in a great many districts where these have been operated in the past they are being displaced by horses, owing no doubt partially to the difficulty of securing experienced men to operate them. Anywhere, there is being put into agriculture in Western Canada, greater effort with more promise than for some years past. The soil is in the best possible condition; moisture has been sufficient, there have been no winds to dry out the soil, and if the farmers have had to lay up for a day or so now and again, it was merely that the ground might have the advantage of the rain and an occasional snow, which promise so much for the growing crop. With some warm weather the grain will come along in a manner that will equal the best years Western Canada has ever had.

It must not be thought from this that the farmers are full bent on securing a grain crop alone. In nearly every district there is more and more the indication and inclination to go into mixed farming. Herds of cattle now dot the plains that up to the present had been fully given up to grain growing, hogs and sheep are in evidence. New buildings are to be seen on a great many places, these being pig houses and cow stables, although protection of cattle is not regularly required, excepting for calves and such cows as it may be necessary to house from time to time.

The growing of alfalfa and other fodder grasses is an industry that is being rapidly developed.

During this spring a splendid class of new settlers have gone in, many of them from the eastern states. These have seen what success the western and central states man has achieved in Western Canada, and are now going in in hundreds. The movement from Montana, Oregon and Washington to Canada continues without any abatement as to numbers and value of effects, while the central and eastern states men still sending an excellent class of farmers with means sufficient to begin farming on a scale that will pay from the start.

Those who contemplate visiting the Panama Exposition next year will find that one of the most interesting trips they can make will be via the Canadian West. There will be three lines of railway they can use—the Canadian Pacific, Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific, all of which will have through to coast lines completed. There will be given a view of prairie, woodland and mountain scenery unequalled in America.—Advertisement.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATKINS, 1135 Knight St., Camden, N.J.

And this one from Mrs. Haddock:

UTICA, OKEA.—"I was weak and nervous, not able to do my work and scarcely able to be on my feet. I had backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, trouble with my bowels, and inflammation. Since taking the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am better than I have been for twenty years. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I have recommended it to others."—Mrs. MARY ANN HADDOCK, Utica, Oklahoma.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

400,000 Settlers a Year

Immigration figures show that the population of Canada increased during 1913, by the addition of 400,000 new settlers from the United States and Europe. Most of these have gone on farms in provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Lord William Percy, an English Nobleman, says:

"The possibilities and opportunities offered by the Canadian West are so infinitely greater than those which exist in England, that it seems absurd to think that people should be impeded from coming to the country where they can most easily and certainly improve their position."

New districts are being opened up, which will make accessible a great number of homesteads in districts especially adapted to mixed farming and grain raising.

FRANCISCO VILLA, MASTER OF CRIME

Bloody Career of Carranza's Chief General.

MURDERER AND PLUNDERER

Starting as a Cattle Thief, He Has Run the Criminal Gamut—Massacres of Prisoners and Non-Combatants.

Gen. Francisco Villa, leader of the constitutional forces in northern Mexico, is more frequently in the public eye than the Spaniard, Carranza, whom he is presumed to serve. His press bureau is far more active and his dash as a commander gives to him importance as a news maker, overshadowing for the time being the trail of murder, plunder and outrage which taints his field of operation.

Murder, plunder and outrage are Villa's specialties. He was reared that way, and increasing opportunities have made him a master hand in the business. To Americans his career is worth studying in connection with his published appeal to the United States to raise the embargo on war material and the certainty that with constitutional success he will sit close to it not actually in the presidential chair of Mexico.

Villa's Start in Life.

A biography of Villa compiled by the Boston Transcript and read by Senator Lodge in the United States senate supplies the following facts:

Francisco Villa was born at Las Nieves in the state of Durango about the year 1868. He is wholly uneducated, being unable to read and barely able to sign his name. About the year 1882, when only fourteen years of age, he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for cattle stealing. On his discharge he settled in the mining camp of Guanacachi, where a few months later he underwent another sentence of imprisonment for homicide. When he came out of prison for the second time he organized a band of robbers, which had their headquarters in the mountainous region of "Perico" in the state of Durango, and were the terror of all that district.

In the year 1907 he was in partnership with one Francisco Reza, stealing cattle in Chihuahua and selling them in the United States, and then stealing mules and horses in the United States, and selling them in Chihuahua. In consequence of some disagreement he shot and killed Reza in broad daylight, while sitting in the plaza in the City of Chihuahua. During the early part of November, 1910, he attacked the factory of a Mr. Soto, in Allende, state of Chihuahua, and killed the owner. By threatening the latter's daughter he forced her to show where she had hidden a sum of $10,000, which he stole and used for arming a considerable force. He then joined Madero's revolution, and in January, 1911, he was at Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, where he killed Carlos Alatorre and Luis Ortiz for refusing to pay him the money he demanded for their ransom. At Batopilas, state of Chihuahua, in February of the same year he tortured a lady named Señora Maria de la Luz Gomez until he made her pay him $20,000. She died from the effects of the barbarous treatment she received.

Gen. Francisco Villa.

Outrages at Juarez. When Ciudad Juarez was taken from the federalists in May, 1913, he killed Señor Ignacio Gomez Oyola, a man of over sixty years of age, under the following circumstances: Having sent for him, Villa asked whether he had any arms in his house, and on saying he had not, Villa, "who was seated on a table," drew his revolver and shot him dead. After rifling the corpse of money and valuables it was thrown into the street.

After the triumph of the revolution, Villa, in November, 1911, obtained a monopoly from the then governor of Chihuahua for the sale of meat in the city of Chihuahua, which he procured by stealing cattle from the neighboring farms. Suspecting one of his subordinates, Cristobal Juarez, of stealing on his own account, he killed him one night in the latter part of November in the Calle de la Libertad.

In the early part of May, 1913, Villa, with 75 men, assaulted a train at Naesza, state of Chihuahua, that was carrying bars of gold and silver valued at 100,000 pesos, killing the crew and several passengers, including Messrs. Caravantes and a Señor Isaac Herrero of Ciudad Guerrero.

Murders in Cold Blood.

Late in the same month he entered the town of San Andres, Chihuahua, and assaulted the house of Señor Sabas Murga, an inclined, who, with his two sons, tried to defend themselves. Two of his nephews were killed, but the Murgas got away. Villa then got hold of two sons-in-law of Murga who had not taken any part in the fight, and after torturing them to say where their father-in-law had hidden his money, he had them killed.

Towards the end of the month Villa's band took the town of Sta. Rosa, Chihuahua, shooting all prisoners and treating the principal officers with terrible cruelty. Colonel Puchleita was shot and his body dragged along the streets of the town. The commercial houses of Messrs. Visconti, Snrri, Cía Harther, Sordo y Blanco (Spaniards) and many others were totally sacked. Many private persons were murdered, one of the worst cases being that of a Spaniard, Señor Montilla, cashier of the house of Cordo y Blanco, who was shot over the head of his wife, who tried to defend him. Villa personally kicked her in the face as she lay on the dead body of her husband. He also himself killed a Señor Ramos, secretary of the court of first instance.

Massacre at Casas Grandes.

In July, 1913, Villa took Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, and about more than 80 noncombatants, violating several young girls, amongst them two young ladies named Castillo.

He attacked and took the town of San Andres, which was held by the federalists, in September, 1913, shooting many peaceable residents and more than 150 prisoners, many of these being women and children. In shooting these people, in order to economize cartridges, he placed one behind the other up to five at one time, very few of them being killed outright. The bodies of the dead and wounded were then soaked with petroleum and thrown into bonfires prepared for the purpose. The prisoners were forced themselves to make the bonfire and cover with petroleum the rest of the victims.

After this he went to the small town of Carretas, where he took prisoner a man of more than seventy years of age, named Jose Dolores Moreno, demanding from him a ransom of $200. As he could not pay Villa killed him with his own hand.

All His Prisoners Shot.

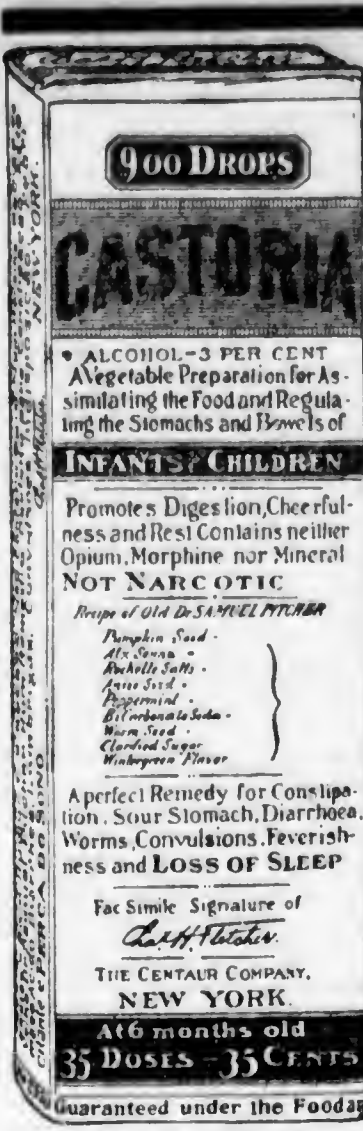

On September 29, 1913, Villa, having overpowered a force of over 500 federalists commanded by General Alvarez at Aviles, fifteen kilometers from Torreon, had every prisoner shot.

Villa has shot in Chihuahua 150 non-combatants, the greater number being poor people who could not leave for want of means or because they thought they ran no risks, as they took no part in politics, for all the people in any way connected with the government had left before Villa entered the city. Special mention may be made of the case of Señor Ignacio Irgoyen and Señor Jose A. Ynez, who, though in no way connected with politics, were taken by Villa and tortured for several days with threats to shoot them until they paid ransoms of $20,000 each. Having obtained from Villa himself safe conducts to leave by train for the border, the train in which they were was caught up at Montezuma by a locomotive, in which were several officers in Villa's confidence, headed by an ex-Maderista deputy called Miguel Baca Ronquillo, who took them from the train and shot them in the presence of the passengers.

Broken Hydroplane at Sea.

A broken hydroplane was picked up at sea off the north coast of Scotland about a week ago by the trawler Lord Durhams, when outward bound for the fishing off the Faroe Islands. The portion is about 16 feet in length, but there are no identification marks. It has been deposited with the receiver of wrecks at Grimsby. There appears to be some mystery in connection with the matter. The admiralty has stations in Orkney and at Crook, but so far as is known publicly there has been no accident of a kind to leave a portion of a hydroplane floating in the water. It will be recollected that some time ago there was an accident at Cromarty to a pilot who had taken the first lord of the admiralty up for several flights there, but the machine was not left in the sea. The exact place where the part of the hydroplane was picked up is not given, and unless there has been an unreported naval mishap, it is impossible to account for the find. It may be recalled that at various times, as far north as Shetland and south to the Buchan coast, and especially in Orkney, rumors of strange aircraft heard at night were rife. The stories were never authenticated, and were generally disbelieved. In any case, they happened so long ago that the alleged alarums of that time can hardly be connected with the Lord Durham's freight.

A Needless Question. "Did you have any ancestors on the Mayflower?" "What a foolish question to ask. You've never heard me boasting that I had, have you?"

Cause of Death.
"You say your automobile didn't touch this man, and yet he was dead when you picked him up?" shouted the prosecuting attorney.
"That's my claim," coolly retorted the prisoner. "My machine didn't touch him."
"And you were driving not over 12 miles an hour?"
"Not over 12 miles and—"
"And you saw this man start to cross the street?"
"Yes."
"Did you blow your horn?"
"I did."
"What sort of a horn is it?"
"One of those newfangled clatter-boxes that create a sound that is a cross between a shriek and a dying wail."
"That explains it. You simply scared the man to death."

On Holiday.
While visiting his uncle in the country Willie was much interested in watching the ducks "tipping up" in a pond.
"They're most all young ones, aren't they?" he observed to his uncle.
"Why, no, boy; they're old ones. What makes you think they are young?"
"I thought they were young," Willie explained, "because they don't seem to be able to swim without upsetting."—Saturday Journal.

New Modern Dancing.
The leading expert and instructor in New York City, writes: "Dear Sir:—I have had ALLEN'S FOOT-PAK, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, for the past ten years. It is a blessing to all who are compelled to be on their feet. I dance eight or ten hours daily, and find that ALLEN'S FOOT-PAK keeps my feet cool, takes the friction from the shoe, prevents corns and blisters. Aching feet. I recommend it to all my pupils."

What He Feared.
It was during a very violent thunderstorm in which the lightning flashes were particularly vivid, terrifying and frequent.
"Do not be afraid, Tommie," said his mother, "our Father in heaven holds the lightning in his hands."
"Yes, I know he does, mother, but then, you see, lightning is so quick and slippery that I am afraid he might let some of it get away from him when he don't mean to."

Are Your Kidneys Weak?

You may have kidney trouble and not know it. The only signs may be occasional twinges in the small of the back, constant lameness, dizzy spells or some annoying irregularity of the kidney action. But no sign of kidney trouble can be safely ignored. Kidney disease moves rapidly. It leads to dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease, rheumatism. If you suspect that your kidneys are sluggish, use Doan's Kidney Pills, which have relieved thousands.

An Ohio Case.
Mrs. A. T. Duvall, 225 E. Spring St., Columbus, O., says: "For ten years I had kidney trouble. I suffered from a distressing pain in my back and at times couldn't stoop or straighten. I was always tired. Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape. The pain left my back and since then I haven't had any sign of it coming back."

PATRIOTIC SERVICES
SHOULD BE HELD ANNUALLY

A suggestion has been made by Freedom Court No. 3, Guardians of Liberty, of Norfolk, Va., that one Sunday of each year be set apart as a patriotic day for the purpose of holding patriotic services that will emphasize the fundamental principles upon which this country is founded, and explain the meaning of separation of State and Church, freedom of conscience, freedom of speech, etc.

They believe that, if all true and patriotic Americans were to meet on such a day, preferably the Sunday just preceding Independence Day (July 4th) to renew their allegiance to their country and to their flag, and to hear a sermon dealing with the question of civic and religious liberty, the patriotic feeling in our country would receive a new impetus and at the same time those who are endeavoring to subvert the Government of these United States in the interest of Political-Ecclesiasticism would first be checked, and finally completely routed.

Will you in behalf of the patriotic cause invite all Evangelical ministers in the United States to preach a patriotic sermon and hold patriotic services on Sunday, June 28th, of this year and every year hereafter.

Yours for true Americanism.
